

Post-Secondary Transition

Project ACCESS Presents:

This one-day training addresses topics to consider in planning for transition from high school to post-secondary education /work including:

Secondary programming/documentation supporting post-secondary transition;

Differences between accommodation services in high school and college;

Assessing students' strengths, needs, and interests;

Using the school and community as training resources;

Connecting students to post-secondary supports;

And resources for transitioning students with disabilities, particularly with ASD.

Educators will be provided with practical suggestions to share with students and families to facilitate their successful transition from high school to post-secondary education/work.

Monday, December 7, 2009

Truman State Office Building

Presenter: Jim Matthews, MS, CVE

Questions? Call toll free: 1-866-481-3841 or projectaccess@missouristate.edu

Or visit our website: www.education.missouristate.edu/access

